TORONTO TIDINGS

Miss Mary McBride enjoyed the Christmas and New Year's holidays with relatives in Bobcaygeon.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGillivray, of Purpleville, were in the city, visiting their children over the Yuletide recess. They spent Christmas at "Mora Glen," where their children gathered, and New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McGillivray.

Mr. David Lawrence went up to Detroit, on December 24th to spend the holidays with his mother and sister, returning on January 5th.

This was his first trip to the "Automobile City," and he enjoyed it thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. King, of Frankford, were up for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, as the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chestnut.

On December 26th, a good crowd turned out at our church, where Mr. Arthur H. Jaffray gave a fine sermon on the "Fatherhood of God," that interested all. Mrs. Lillian Casey Wilson rendered the beautiful hymn, "God Loved the World So Tenderly."

Mr. John Maynard, of Flint, Michigan, was down to his parental home here for the Yuletide holiday.

Mrs. Robert Batho and young daughter went out to Eastwood to enjoy the recent holidays at the former's parental home.

Out to Hamilton again went Messrs. Robert Ensminger and R. E. Edwards for Christmas cheer, and even move then that, and you now why.

Mr. George Elliot has returned to Toronto after spending the Yuletide holidays with his wife at Long Branch, and relatives in this city.

In handing your reporter her renewal to the JOURNAL, Mrs. Alice F. Wheeler says she finds this paper highly interesting and profitable—just as all others do.

Miss Rheta Lott, of Oshawa, was in our midst, visiting relatives over the Yuletide holidays.

Through the generosity of a good many of the deaf here Mr. Ernest Hutchins and his two young daughters, who have been keeping a "wolf" from their door for some time past, were made very happy on Christmas in more ways than one. We trust it will not be long before they will be able to "plough their own furrow."

WOODSTOCK WHISPERS.

Mr. Charles A. Ryan went up to London, on December 18th, to attend a surprise party, which the deaf of that city got up and sprang on Mrs. David Dark, on the occasion of her natal day, which, however, occurs on December 15th, but was gotten up later to avoid suspicion, and to make the time more eventful, the 15th was so Mr. Ryan's birthday, so two birds are killed by one stone, as the old adage goes. A very delightful time as spent, and Mrs. Dark received many nice useful gifts. A hearty hush was also enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cone and their sister, Mrs. Iva Hughes, were picked up by Messrs. W. H. Gould and Eddie Fishbein, of London, in the latter's car, and taken for a trip to Brantford recently, to attend a meeting conducted by Mr. Walter Bell, of Brantford, but found Mr. J. R. Byrne substituting.

Messrs. Russell Groves, of Ingersoll, and Merton McMurray, of Harnesford, were visitors here with friends, on December 12th, returning the same evening, in the latter's car.

Mr. Ben Cone was out on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., in London, on December 19th, and attended Mr. Fred Terrell's service that afternoon, who spoke on the birth of our Blessed Redeemer.

Mr. Charles A. Ryan was most pleasantly surprised, yet pleased, to receive a call from his old friend, Mr. John Walton, of Devon, Sask., whom he had not seen for over thirty-two years, when he left these parts to make a fortune in the golden West, and made good. This meeting was like a resurrection and very cordial.

SARNIA SAYINGS

Miss Alice Leckie, of Detroit, was over here with her parents for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Culver B. Bowly, of Simcoe, came up on December 24th, and enjoyed the Christmas recess with their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, and their mother, Mrs. Leitch. Mr. Bowly went home again on December 27th, but Mrs. Bowly remained here for a few weeks longer.

Mr. John Mackie, who is working for his father on the farm near Dresden, was up here for Christmas with his wife and his child at the latter's parental home. They all went out to the farm for the New Year's vacation.

We are glad to state that Mrs. Leitch, mother of Mrs. Jontie Henderson, and who lives with her, is around again, after her recent illness, which kept her to her room over the recent holidays.

Doctor and Mrs. McMillan and their two sons went down to Belleville, to see their son and brother, Russell, at Christmas, and report him doing very well.

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson got a lovely large everlasting wreath and placed it over the grave where their only and much missed son, Gordon, sleeps his last sleep. Here it will remain through winter's driving storms and summer's cooling zephyrs as a lasting symbol of love from his devoted parents.

ST. PAUL SELECTIONS

Mrs. Robert Hoy, her son, Mack, and daughter, Margaret, have returned from a pleasant trip by motor to Flint, Mich., where they spent a pleasant time with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Smith, whose husband works at the Chevrolet automobile plant in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have just purchased a new home there. Mrs. Smith is well known to many of the deaf as formerly Miss Mary Hoy, who can master the sign language fluently like the rest of the Hoy family.

Mrs. David Alexander and her son, Edward, of Hensall, were the guests of Mrs. Robert Hoy and family recently, and in the meantime all went for a trip to Stratford. The ladies called to see Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Quinlan, while Ed. Alexander and Mack Hoy attended the professional hockey game between Hamilton and the "Classic City."

The deaf all round here enjoyed the JOURNAL, and from its news columns they see that the deaf in Toronto are having great times in connection with their new church.

Mrs. Robert Hoy, her son, Mack, and his sister, Margaret, were out to Fullarton, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Will Rodgers, nee Charlotte Rice, just before Christmas. The Rodgers were very busy preparing for the big family gathering, which they had at Christmas.

Mr. Samuel Hoy is still working in Detroit, and is doing very well.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

The sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, of Glen Meyer, who now work in Detroit, were out to their parental home for the Yuletide recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvy H. Armstrong, of Vancouver, B. C., report that they are doing very well, but are thinking of selling out their shoe-repairing business. They also report that the deaf of that city are going to form a club for recreation and social purposes. Here's hoping they will succeed.

Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton, was over to the Middletons, at Horning Mills, for his Christmas dinner and cheer.

Mr. Nelson Wood, of Santa Barbara, Cal., has just returned from a trip through Southern California and Mexico, and wherever he went, he thinks the city of Juarez, Mexico, is the wickedest place he has ever seen.

Mr. Mack White, of Detroit, went out to see his parents in Strathroy, Ont., for the Yuletide holidays and had a lovely time.

Mr. David Dark, of London, left on December 19th, for a visit to Detroit, where he is taking treatment from a specialist.

After attending the sad funeral of his sister, the late Mrs. Henry Clements, in Galt, Mr. Wilbur Elliott has returned to Detroit. The tragic death of his deaf sister was most pathetic and sickening to behold. Her face was literally cut and disfigured, and one eye had been torn from its socket.

Mr. Hedley Grant, of Hamilton, was one of the many deaf, who paid their last respects to the late Mrs. Henry Clements at her funeral, in Galt, on December 14th.

Mrs. Russell Browne, of Simcoe, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Culver B. Bowly, of Simcoe, with her husband and three children intended spending the recent holidays in Toronto, but owing to illness in the home of their Toronto relatives, they remained in Simcoe.

We congratulate our old friend, the Rev. A. H. Staubitz, of Buffalo, on being elected president of the "Bison" Frats. We also welcome his news items in the JOURNAL, for the deaf here have many friends over there. With Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, California and other parts on the "move," the deaf over here will be able to follow the doings of their many friends in that country to the south.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

Buffalo News.

Mr. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, Ontario, one of the erstwhile leaders of De Sales Literary Society, Benevolent Society, and Le Couteux Alumni Association, was happily greeted by his staunch friends, and admirers in this city recently. He was characterized as a man of good health, of which they are pleased to learn that the climate and surroundings of Canada agree with him immensely. It is understood that he was enroute to Albany, N. Y., where he was slated to deliver an address before an audience. We sincerely hope that the subject of his lecture will be made known in this JOURNAL ere long. We remember his wife well, as she was once known as Miss Lucile B. Bennett, one of the flourishing students of Kendall School and Gallaudet College several years ago.

The committee of Buffalo Division, No. 40, is mailing out postal cards for the Fourth Annual Banquet of Buffalo Division, No. 40, N. F. S. D., which will be held at Crescent Hall, on Verplanck Street, near East Utica, on Saturday evening, the 22d of January, 1927, at 7 o'clock.

The "Watch-Night" Social accompanying the surprise party given in honor of one of our popular and promising ladies, Miss Eleanor Atwater, was featured to be the most appropriate and enjoyable, at the cozy residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Snyder, at Lockport, N. Y. At the conclusion of this event, a vote of thanks for the unrestricted disposal of their rooms was passed unanimously. Moreover, they were complimented as unexcelled entertainers during the last evening of the last year. The term of Mr. Snyder's secretaryship of Buffalo Division, No. 40, has expired, and he is entitled to credit from his fellow-brothers.

Here is the reproduction of a piece of news emanating from Manchester, Eng., where they believe that the cup Christ used is about now to throw additional light on certain portions of Gospel text. "A glass cup of the first century, which, it is thought, might have been one of the four believed to have been used by Christ at the Last Supper, will be placed on exhibition at the Ryland Library. Much secrecy about the cup's Biblical significance is being maintained by Dr. James Randel Harris, the noted scholar, now possessing it."

On the 30th of December, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stewart entertained a host of friends. Each one of them was presented with a Christmas gift, which turned to be very useful for wearing purposes. Mr. Stewart was at one time a Scout Master, and claims to have twenty-eight merit badges up to date.

The topic of the sermon preached by the Rev. Mr. Aug. H. Staubitz, at the First Baptist Church in this city, on the 3d of January, was "God and the Changing World." Rev. Mr. H. C. Merrill delivered an impressive sermon before his devoted following, which was led to partake the Holy Communion reverently with him, at the Deaconess Home on North Street, on the 3d of January.

About sixty persons attended the "Watch-Night" under the auspices of the Silent Athletic Club, on Saturday evening, the 31st of December. One of the charming ladies, Miss Weil, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sol. Weil, was the center of attraction, which will be long remembered. She exhibited some of her favorite dances that won a great reputation as one of the best dancers now living. We are of the same opinion that she inherited the talent of dancing from her mother, who did a lot for our former society, which was then "Clerc Literary." The happy parents are well known among their society friends in New York City.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith spent the passing evening of 1926 with them, and were served with tempting oyster soup after the chimes and greetings were exchanged. Mr. Smith entertained them with the events of Popular Science, in which he is interested, while his blessed wife did the serving. They have two exceptionally bright children to rear. Miss Georgina Smith, one of the sisters of Mr. Smith, holidayed with them. She returned to the Rochester School for the Deaf, where she is supervising the older girls.

Mr. Arthur Staubitz, the son of Rev. Aug. H. Staubitz, is now attending the second term at the Bennett High School in this city. He was recently placed on the merit roll, which is the second time since last fall. He is expecting to take up regents in a couple of weeks. He was elected as a Leader of the Fox Patrol, and has passed several tests which tendered him as a first-class Scout. The next test he takes up will make him a Star Scout. His new sister, Miss Jessie Minkie, the daughter of Mrs. Staubitz, is also in the ranks of scout girls. Some spirit for America.

BUFFALONIAN.

BUFFALO NEWS

Fully a crowd of forty hied themselves, on December 31st, to Lockport, N. Y., to hold a Watch Night party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder. Syracuse, Rochester, Batavia, Jamestown and Buffalo were represented. There was fun galore and sleep was an unknown art that particular night. Games, and lots of them, were indulged in to while away the hours. Appended are the winners of the games and the prizes they received:

Hearts—First prize, won by Mrs. Louis Seelbach, glass bowl. First prize for men, won by Albert Ode, cigar holder.

Bridge—First prize, Miss Charlotte Schwager, package of cards.

Guessing number of beans in jar—Won by Louis Williams, pocket memorandum. Second, won by Miss Martha Wells, calendar.

Word contest—Won by Miss Doris Meyer, box of writing paper. Second, Rev. H. C. Merrill, handkerchief. Booby prize, Walter La Bar, package of safety pins.

By a mere coincidence, it was also the birthday anniversary of Miss Eleanor Atwater, and she was the recipient of numerous gifts, attesting the high esteem in which she is held by her friends. Among them was a platinum bracelet set, and fountain pen and pencil set. At the stroke of twelve, all sat down to a delicious repast, winding up with a generous chaser of ice cream—these are Volstead days, you know. Then the New Year came.

The deaf hereabouts seem all "het" up over the linotype game, and several are away taking courses in so-called "schools." Without seeming to disparage their laudable ambition, we arise to ask if the game is not overplayed? Are they treading the paths the angels fear to tread? paraphrasing a famous quotation. We hope not, yet the fact remains that the linotype and divers all other typesetting machines, except the whole "art preservative" are doomed. For the past few months, there has been appearing in the press rumors about a couple of men in England perfecting a sort of photo-typesetting machine—in itself awe-inspiring—the rest is left to the imagination of the gentle reader.

The writer is one of the veteran operators—starting out way back in 1902, when there were only two or three known deaf operators in the country, and now they are legion, and it is good to see them coming, because linotyping is peculiarly adapted to the deaf, and besides is the best paid profession in the printing industry.

It is great game sitting down by the glow of the open fireplace and let your mind wander back a few years and longer, if you are old enough, and reminisce to your heart's content. Yes—that's the stuff. Twenty years ago to a day, the writer was attending an alumni at the Rochester School—that was for the first time, and what attracted him was a little fellow darting hither and thither among the crowd—in itself insignificant—but trouble some enough to get anyone's goat in the end, and that is what it exactly did.

I believe that particular person—he scaled, if I remember rightly, four feet and five inches in height, if I am a good judge—started the style of juveniles wearing long pants, even though he probably doesn't approve of it, because it makes it harder for him to identify himself. So much for formalities. His actions sure were intriguing, and the writer in common with others followed to the rear of the school buildings and there was a ring formed by the crowd. The little fellow was in the ring, musing up a man four times his size.

First it's a half nelson, a headlock, a la "Strangler" Lewis, a half-nelson a la Burns, a toe hold a la Gotch—indeed, the little whirlwind's versatility was so great—that he did to the bigger man was a caution. Who was he? You go into any sporting store and ask for a Spalding Guide of twenty years back, and in the list of 105-pound wrestlers, you will find, heading the list, thrice champion amateur wrestler, the name of James Meagher, of Chicago. Yes, that's our own Jimmy Meagher, and we are giving credit where credit is due. And to my knowledge, "Jimmy" Meagher is the only deaf man who has ever held a championship in any branch of sport in the Amateur Athletic Union today. James Meagher has won laurels in other branches of endeavor—teacher, educator and writer, and a success in all. Truly, the Rochester School has reason to be proud of its alumni.

CHARLES N. SNYDER.

The New Year

Fleeting bath passed the year; the seasons came. Duly as they were wont,—the gentle Spring, And the delicious Summer, and the cool And Winter, like an old and hoary man, Rich Autumn, with the nodding grain, Frosty and stiff,—and so are chronicled.

We have read gladness in the new green leaf, And in the first-blown violets; we have drunk Cool water from the rock, and in the shade Sunk to the noontide slumber; we have plucked The mellow fruitage of the bending tree, And girded to our pleasant wanderings When the cool winds came freshly from the hills.

And when the tinting of the Autumn leaves Had faded from its glory, we have sat By the good fires of Winter, and rejoiced Over the fulness of the gathered sheaf.

"God hath been very good." 'Tis He whose hand Moulded the sunny hills, and hollowed out The shelter of the valleys, and doth keep The fountains in their secret places cool; And it is He who leadeth up the sun, And ordereth the starry influences, And tempereth the keenness of the frost; And, therefore, in the plenty of the feast, And in the lifting of the cup, let Him Have praises for the well-completed year.

AMONG the letters recently received at the JOURNAL office was one from Lakewood, N. J., from the police department which reads as follows.

BUREAU OF POLICE
MUNICIPAL BUILDING

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 4, 1927.

Mr. E. A. HODGSON
Station M, New York City.

DEAR SIR: I am communicating with you regarding a Deaf-Mute by the name of George Weinstein. This man was in Lakewood, N. J., recently and rented a room from a lady by the name Ida Frank. Miss Frank being a very kind-hearted lady, cashed two checks for Weinstein amounting to ninety dollars ($90.00) and the check were no good.

I have learned since that this same man has been making a practice of doing people out of money this way. I would be very pleased if you would through your JOURNAL advertise this man, thus warning other innocent people, who he may try to swindle.

I would appreciate any thing that you may be able to do regarding this man. Thanking you, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
W. A. CURTIS, Chief of Police,
Lakewood, N. J.

We do not know "George Weinstein." The person so named is has probably assumed the cognomen for the time being, and is very likely is travelling under another appellation at the present time. It is generally found that swindlers change their names and tactics as they move from place to place. The proper thing to do is to advance no cash to strangers either in response to appeals or in exchange for phony checks. Such men are generally plausible talkers, and the confiding public should be on its guard. The above is not a solitary incident, as it has been duplicated, triplicated and multiplied. It is praiseworthy to have a kind heart, but the emotions should be balanced by a wary mind.

We are sorry that so estimable and intelligent a woman as Miss Frank should be "taken in" by a fraud. But her expensive trustfulness should save many other deaf-mutes from similar disaster. Her costly experience ought to serve as a warning.

Another man, hailing from West Virginia and claiming to be a graduate of the school at Staunton, has also been preying upon the public in New York and vicinity. The police exposed him by the trick of exploding a firecracker under a chair upon which he was seated. As the explosion startled him and he yelled and spoke, the blue coats set him down as an impostor. He may have been a deaf man, nevertheless; because any deaf person would be startled by an explosive sound in similar circumstances. They "feel" the vibrations of a drum at a considerable distance, and as the exploding sound made by a firecracker is very much the same, they are liable to jump at the report.

This man gave his name as Charles Abbott, but in New Jersey he was known as George Abbott. He claims to know Charles Seaton and August Hertfelder, teachers at the Institution for the Deaf at Staunton. It is possible that he is really a deaf man, or a hearing man familiar with the sign language and manual alphabet. If he is an impostor, he is spreading shame on the really law-abiding and industrious deaf. He peddles articles and makes the sympathetic public believe that deaf people are in nearly all cases obliged to follow such an occupation for a living. Whereas the masses of the deaf are intelligent, educated, industrious citizens, fulfilling all the duties and obligations incumbent upon people who can hear. Vagabonds like "George Weinstein" do all the deaf an injustice.

It is sufficient handicap to go through life minus the important sense of hearing, without being doubly handicapped by public prejudice against them.

JUST as we go to press the sad news is received that Mrs. James M. Stewart, of Flint, Mich., has succumbed to an operation, her death having taken place on Sunday, January 8th. At Gallaudet College she was known as Miss Josephine Titus, and was remarkable for native intelligence, education and refinement. The Editor of this paper extends to Mr. Stewart his sincere sympathy.

OMAHA

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!
For life is long enough for love to live and short enough for bitterness to cease."

Visitors at the Masonic home for boys were attracted by a bust of Washington and one of Lincoln, made of snow by William Schurkramp. He and his two brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Schurkramp. The former is a tailor and the latter, nee Myrtle Trego, graduated from the Iowa School in 1901 and works at the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria.

Mrs. Elaine Batye, of Seattle, visited with her friend, Mrs. Luther Taylor, at the Iowa School. She is traveling for a photo engraving firm and making a success of it, as she retains a large proportion of her hearing. She was educated at the Colorado School as a protegee of Supt. Argo, and spent the holidays in Denver with her children. Her husband, a hearing man, owns a turkey ranch near Seattle.

Omaha Division, No. 32, N. F. S. D. held its' annual banquet at Hotel Rome, Saturday night December 11th. There were forty-two present, the out-of-town visitors being Mark Bishop, of Bouton, Ia., and Ross Kaons and John Sullivan, of Des Moines, Ia. Below was the menu:

Fruit Cocktail Mixed Olives
Roasted Tenderloin Steak—Mushroom Sauce
French Fried Potatoes—Peas in butter
Head Lettuce—Thousand Island Dressing
Hot Tea Biscuits
Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee
Robert E. Dobson, chairman of the committee was toastmaster and the following was the program.

The Clan F. Arthur Clayton
"Slave Bears keep pace with one another."
The Tribe Mrs. Carl Wear
"The hunting tribes of the earth and air Respect the brethren of their tribe."
The Templars C. R. Koons
"Renowned for deeds as far from home."
The Guild E. S. Waring
"A fellow feeling makes one kin."
The I. O. O. F. Mrs. Ota Blankenship
It is not the flesh and blood but the heart that makes brotherhood."
The Frats E. M. Hazel
"Time's noblest offspring is her last."
Omaha No. 32, (a song) Mrs. Glenn Hawkins.

At its regular meeting in December, the Division elected the following officers for 1927: President, E. M. Hazel; Vice-President, Nick Peterson; Secretary R. E. Dobson; Treasurer, Scott Cuscaden; Sergeant-at-arms Earl Mitchell and Trustee, Oscar Treuke.

We presume every body at the Iowa School is glad to be relieved of its long quarantine of scarlet fever and small pox.

The fifth-annual exhibition of Nebraska artists was held at the art Institute of Omaha during the month of December. Harry G. Long exhibited three original embroidered panels in a case, this work being considered too delicate to hang on the walls. Only original pieces were accepted and paintings by ninety artists were on display.

Rev. H. E. Grace, of Denver, held services at Trinity Cathedral December 26th. His subject was Faith. Edwin Hazel was appointed lay reader of the mission.

Mr. Frank Doctor, boys, supervisor of the Kansas school, spent several days at the Iowa school recently, where he held a similar position a couple years ago.

HAL AND MEL.

FANWOOD.

After their long vacation for two weeks, all pupils of Fanwood returned to school on Monday morning, January 3d, 1927. During their holidays, most of the pupils had a fine time attending parties, Christmas festivals at St. Ann's Church and at the Lutheran Church, skating at Van Cortlandt Park and Central Park, niking through New Rochelle and Rye, enjoying the basketball games between the Fanwood and the Horace Mann teams, and between the Margraf team and the Bronx Union team of the Y. M. C. A.

During the Yuletide recess, three students from Gallaudet College, Messrs. Royster, Thompson and Joselow, made a visit at the Fanwood school, and also enjoyed being shown around the JOURNAL office.

In the chapel, before the Fanwood Literary Association, a program was given by the 8th Grade Class, taught by Professor Iles. The program by Cadets William Horne and Benjamin Settle was very amusing. The debate was won by the negative side by 3 points to 1 for the affirmative. The following was the program:

Reading—"Jason," by Benjamin Settle.
Reading—"Galileo," by Abraham Cohen.
Reading—"Wally," by William Horne.
Debate—Resolved, That carpentry is a better wage-earning trade for the deaf than printing.
Affirmative Negative
A. Hinson P. Schwing
Reading—"The Little Blind Sister," by Allyn Manning.
Reading—"The Springfield Fox," by Perry Schwing.
Reading—"For a Noble Cause," by Abraham Hinson.
Reading—"The Battle of Crecy," by William Wyatt.
Reading—"Philip, the Gift of God," by Herbert Alpen.
Dialogue—Benedict and Bachelor. William Horne and Benjamin Settle.

Patrick Prevete and Harry Schavien, both pupils of Fanwood, succeeded in hiking to Portchester, N. Y., from New York City, after paying a brief visit to the printing office here during the Christmas recess. Their return was over the same road.

The first team of Barrager (Girls) basketball players began practice in the gymnasium last Tuesday. Mr. Frank Lux, our Physical Director, taught them some new signals, which they have learned quickly. They have booked a game with the Trenton quintet for January 21st, on the latter's court.

BASKETBALL GAMES

The Fanwood team was at Cornwall, N. Y., on December 8th, for a game with the Cornwall team. Playing one of the fastest basketball games, the Cornwall team conquered the Fanwood team by the score of 67 to 29. In the first quarter, the Fanwood slowed up at the score of 17 to 6, but in the second quarter, it showed its stonewall defense up by making 13 points as the other team made the same points and both teams were holding at the score of 30 to 19, but the players of Cornwall team broke through the Fanwood's defense, which was weakened by the loss of John Kostyk, a star running-guard in the second quarter, and in the third and fourth quarters the score was too heavy and too fast for the Fanwoods. Leo Port starred for Fanwood team by making 10 goals.

DETROIT.

Remember! Remember! Remember! The Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association of the Deaf, business meeting, Sunday, January 30th, 1927, at 2:30 P. M., in G. A. R. Building, corner Grand River and Cass Avenues. Very important.

Detroit Division of N. F. S. D., Silver Jubilee Banquet, January 22d, 1927, at King Wah Lo Cafe. For reservations, write to Ivan Heymanson, 1267 Wayburn Avenue. Tickets $1.50 per plate.

The Christmas entertainment at the D. A. D. Hall, December 24th, drew one of the biggest crowds in its history. A short program was carried off. The stage had a beautiful red brick fireplace, through which Saint Nick came with his pack. After his greeting to the children, gifts were distributed to all.

Clifford Goupil, the chairman, deserves much credit for his work and the artistic way he decorated the rooms.

The grim reaper of death has taken many of our friends loved ones from them. Frank Brown's mother passed away, December 26th. Frank and his family went to the funeral at Mt. Vernon, Ill., in his Dodge car. Gilbert Morley was called to St. Joseph to attend the funeral of his father. His Essex car took him there and back.

Wilbur Elliot's sister, Mrs. Henry Clements, was killed by an auto and was buried at Ingersoll, Canada. Wilbur attended the funeral and came back, only to be laid off for the winter.

Our former JOURNAL correspondent, Mr. Fred Ryan, met with a painful accident just before Christmas. Stubbing his toe on the riser under the base burner, he fell headlong, striking a combination writing desk—book case with a glass door. He received two large cuts and a black eye. The cuts required several stitches to close them. He surely has our sympathy, as it is not a very pleasant way to spend the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Osmonson, have the right kind of neighbors and friends. After their house burnt, they gave them a shower that included many useful things, and a purse with $200 in cash. They secured the insurance on the house and have started to rebuild their home.

The Lutheran Church had its Christmas Festival, December 24th, with a good crowd, and the usual treat for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tripp, of Flint, called at the Kennys recently.

The Davies and Waters children from the State School, at Flint, spent the holidays with their parents.

Archie Weiker, who has been with the M. H. Lamp Co. the past three years, is back to work after a two-months' layoff.

Mr. Albert Tarrow, brother of Mrs. R. V. James, spent Christmas week in the city, visiting with his sister, and returned to his home in Toledo, Monday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Reno Arrowsmith. Cause, a ten-pound son, who came December 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons, of Kalamazoo, are spending the winter with a sister in Detroit. We are glad to say Ed. is improving and walks around the house without a cane now.

The Detroit Association of the Deaf, at 320 West Fort Street, continues to improve its office. Another new desk and steel locker for papers has been added, and twenty new members from the Oral crowd have signed up to help and boost the D. A. D. Rahl for them. The new hall location is proving very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sohnlein spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hoffman in Monroe.

Philip Bednark went to Bay City to see his parents. He has been out of work for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dirren and Miss Mina Sundquist spent the Christmas vacation with the Sundquist family in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Fielding have been entertaining the latter's mother from Illinois.

Mrs. Pearl Griffin, of Toledo, is staying with Mrs. Oscar Hoffman, who is in very poor health.

Mr. Dexter Garrett, of Chicago, has been visiting his daughter, and took in the Watch Night Party at the Detroit Fraternal Club.

Miss Rose Kraft, of Maumee, Ohio, spent the holidays with her brother. She boards with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kane (Abbie Krasne), who wished to be remembered to all her Detroit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rollins have been entertaining relatives from Kansas City. They gave a Christmas Party to their guests and Santa was extra good to Mrs. Rollins, leaving her three bridge lamps, besides many other useful things.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hulst spent the month end with friends and relatives in Jackson and Ypsilanti.

Kenneth E. Drake, son of C. W. Drake, hurt his leg while visiting his father and was forced to return to his home in Pontiac. We hope it proves nothing serious.

William Elliot has gone to spend the winter with his parents at Ingersoll, Canada. He will return in the spring, when sure of getting a job.

Gallaudet College

Ye correspondent has returned to Gallaudet, along with the other saddened Christmas vacationists, to resume the year's grind, which, strangely enough, does not seem so tedious as it did before Christmas. The prodigal students are, however, gratified to find Kendall Green no different from what it was when they left for their respective homes, save it seemed to hold much more of a charm for them. If anything can approach close to home in sentiment, it's Kendall Green.

To conclude the serial conducted throughout the past two issues, the correspondent is delighted to announce the end of the first term in the way of the re-examinations, from which the greater part of the conditioned students emerged triumphant. It is with a feeling of relief that we put behind us 'or good and all the unpleasant thoughts of examination times till the leaves begin to turn the night before the second-term examinations.

The students are sitting tight, patiently waiting for a good, heavy snow. The three upper classes are rolling up their sleeves and planning down to an appreciable thinness their paddles, in anticipation of the inevitable snow bath the Freshman and the Preps are going to get. The Freshman escaped their just dues last year because of the scarlet fever and grippe epidemics, which hit Kendall Green just in time to spoil the fun. But Gallaudet College justice moves as surely as Father Time does. Sooner or later the "uninitiated" shall be put through the mill.

Our hearts are touched by the terrible misfortune which has been the lot of a well-liked Preparatory Class student, Einer Rosenkjar. His sister died recently of bronchial pneumonia, which sad demise was followed, a week later, by that of his mother, which was caused by the shock of the first. This unfortunate student is assured of our most heartfelt sympathy upon his double bereavement. He has left for his home in Iowa, and we sincerely hope he will find it possible to return to Gallaudet.

The Gallaudet College quota has been passed by the narrow margin of twenty-one cents, according to the official report printed in the Alumni Department of the January issue of the Buff and Blue. But the wide-awake Head Senior, Walter I. Krug, has since then collected $15.25, thus bringing our excess margin to $25.46. Gallaudet College is determined not to let the alumni and the others do all the contributing—we're going to do our bit and then some!

A familiar figure on the campus—Schatz von der Gruen, officially registered as Schatz von der Koenig, Professor F. H. Hughes' lively German police dog, has been for some time missing, being confined to his kennel by a severe attack of pneumonia. We hope that he will, with his back to the Hindenburg line, eventually pull through.

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY NOSES OUT GALLAUDET

Wednesday night, January 5th, the Hughesmen invaded the floor of the Catholic University gymnasium, and gave the Brooklanders a fight worthy of the name for the bigger end of the score, which finally resolved into 59 to 43, in favor of Catholic University.

As has been reiterated several times before, the Gallaudet College quintet consists of entirely Preparatory Class students, with the sole exception of Captain Miller, a Junior. In spite of the generally accepted theory that a team consisting of new material is sure to be weak on account of lack of experience, this year's basketball team has been displaying extraordinary speed and accuracy.

The Catholic University tossers started away like a whirlwind and swiftly ran up a total of 36 points by the time the first half ended to Gallaudet's 14. The Buff and Blue men were completely bewildered and lost on a strange and much larger floor.

When the Kendall Greeners returned to the floor in the second half, they seemed to have been instilled with new life and an orgy of field goals on the Gallaudeters' part followed. Dyer, the swift, eagle-eyed forward, tore around, seemingly everywhere at once, contributing about half of the points scored in the second half, Cosgrove and Miller and Bilger supplying the rest. Cosgrove displayed a deadly accuracy when it came to sinking baskets.

The scoring of the Kendall Greeners received a check when reserves, strange to say, were sent in, but from time to time the Buff and Blue basket marked up field goals. The chances the Kendall Greeners got for free throws were numerous, and they were in most cases converted into tangible points.

When the final whistle blew, the Kendall Greeners had closed up the gap to only sixteen points.

The following is taken from the Newark News of December 29th: Bergen county has a new prisoner, and doesn't know what to do with him.

Milton Haderman was arrested charged with burglary and held in $10,000 bail.

So far all right, but when it came to pleading, Milton had the authorities stumped, because he turned out to be deaf and dumb. And he adds to the difficulties by indicating that he doesn't know what it's all about.

So today the district attorney's office issued an S. O. S. for some lawyer, who understands the sign language, to represent the prisoner, who in the meantime has been remanded to jail.

Joe Weisman celebrated the fifth anniversary of his marriage on January 1st, and it proved a very pleasant event, as all invited responded by being present. Abe Miller also celebrated the anniversary of his marriage on the first by entertaining several of his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Timer have an addition in their cosy home in the person of Samuel Schwartz Timer. 'Tis a boy-baby, which arrived a few days before Christmas—December 22d to be exact—and weighed when it came 7 pounds, but by now weighs much more. Daddy Lawrence is all smiles these days.

In honor of his thirty first birthday, his wife arranged a party for Dave Polinsky. He received many beautiful presents. Friends present were his wife's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hitchcock, Goldie Perlman, Rose Forschirm, Gladale Dlugatch, Mr. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Seffren, Mrs. Marcus, and others.

Mr. Abe Marcus, of Newark, was married to Miss Freda Safran, a former pupil Fanwood, by a Rabbi of Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, December 18th, 1927. Among the guests were Miss Goldies Perlman, Rose Forschirm, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Polinsky, Mr. Gladale Dlugatch, and other relatives. Mr. Marcus works as night worker at printing in Arlington, N. J.

Mrs. William S. Gibbs (nee Arabella Dewillegar), of Rochester, is visiting friends in Montclair, N. J., and may remain until spring. She was accompanied by Mrs. Pangburn, a hearing lady who uses the deaf-mute alphabet with ease. Mrs. Gibbs was educated at Fanwood, and in her maiden days was a resident of Albany.

Bound for Miami, Florida on board the S. S. George Washington, Mrs. Yetta Eisenberg will wave a farewell to many of her friends. Among whom will be delegation of the Sorority of Jewish Deaf.

The boat will leave at 2 P. M. from Pier 45, foot of Christopher Street next Saturday, January 15th.

Mrs. Eisenberg will bear with her a token of good-will and a bon voyage from the Sorority,

The Brooklyn Guild of Deaf-Mutes had a Christmas Festival at St. Mark's Parish House, on Wednesday evening, December 29th. Over a hundred were present, and addresses were made by Rev. J. H. Kent, Rev. G. Braddock, Rev. R. A. Peckham and the President, Robert Kerstetter. Little Catherine Liebsohn and her chum Laura Kaufman, gave an exhibition of graceful dancing that was greatly enjoyed by all.

Presents were distributed around, after which coffee and cake were served. The committee in charge consisted of Mr. Harry Liebsohn, Mr. A. McLaren and Mesdames Tooley, Schnakenberg and Liebsohn.

The marriage of Miss Doris M. Ballance to Mr. James N. Orman, at St. Louis, Mo., on the 22d of December, is formally announced. They will make their home at 579 East Loula Street, Olathe, Kan. Both bride and groom are graduates of Gallaudet College, Mr. Orman having previously graduated with honors at Fanwood. He is at present a teacher at the Kansas Institution.

On Sunday, January 9th, the Margraf team was badly defeated by the Strong Silent Whirlwinds at Westchester, N. Y., by the count of 33 to 13. It was very fast and well played. The Margravs were not accustomed to play professional, but they did very well. Kerwin, Kostyk and Retzker starred in this afternoon's game.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol. E. Patcher, of Brooklyn, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on December 22d. They received many cards and telegrams of felicitation and good wishes on the occasion from friends, and an engrossed letter of congratulation from fellow members of the Knickerbocker Leather Goods Co., where Sol. works. Mr. and Mrs. Patcher have two daughters, Elizabeth and Rose, twenty-four and eighteen years old, respectively, and one son, Elias, who is fourteen.

On New Year's Eve, a midnight dinner was given at the home of Mrs. R. Stoll. It is said that the way to a man's heart is through the stomach, and Mrs. Stoll certainly knew how to work her way to her guests' hearts. The dinner consisted of fish, celery, olives, pickles, consommé, roast chicken, roast potatoes, salad, bread pudding, plenty of drinks, fruits, candies and other delicacies which go to make up a perfect dinner.

Music and dancing helped to make the evening a more pleasant one. At three o'clock in the morning, the guests departed, with a very pleasant taste, and wishing that New Year's Eve was more frequent, especially in the home of Mrs. R. Stoll.

A fine son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Merlis (nee Rose Farber), a former Fanwood pupil, on January 5th, 1927. Mother and baby are doing nicely. They now have two sons.

Mr. Meyer Lief, formerly Lifshutz, wishes every one who knows him, to recognize his new name. It was approved by the Supreme Court at the time he got his certificate of naturalization. It occurred on December 23d

CHICAGO.

We started the year with a record broken—
For we live in a record-breaking day;
With beautiful ritual, finger-spoken
In a colorful club, in a colorful way.

Chicago deafdom started the New Year right by breaking another world's record! Three hundred interested spectators witnessed the imposing inauguration ceremonies of TWO frat divisions at the same time!

The gayly decorated ball room of the Silent A. C.—the world's finest deaf-owned clubhouse—beamed with big men and fair women as the directors stationed two officers at each post, one a No. 1 official, and one a Chi-Oral-106 appointee. With snap and precision, the impressive ritual was gone through (no, this is not revealing N. F. S. D. secrets, as women and non-members were there in abundance) until the newly elected officers of 1927 were duly installed and sworn in.

Retiring President Charles Kemp spoke briefly and to the point: "I am proud to think it was during my administration that we fittingly celebrated the Silver Jubilee of both the N. F. S. D. and No. 1—a celebration that shall go ringing down the corridors of time."

President-elect Leo Clinnen spoke briefly and to the point: "It is O. K. to advocate changes and improvements in our laws," was one of his pat phrases.

Following this joint installation of Divisions Numbers 1 and 106, ice cream was served. The Sac held "open house" New Year's Day. Grand Treasurer A. L. Roberts made the only speech of the evening, aside from the division presidents.

The leading visitor from out of town was Edwin Hazel, president of Omaha Division. Hazel left Chicago six years ago as just one of the masses; he returned in triumph as a recognized parliamentary authority and was besieged with questions of parliamentary law, all of which he answered with clearness and eclat.

Four more Chicagoans bought his patent pocket card, described in a recent Chicago column here. The Omaha papers recently ran his photograph in its full-page-length strip of Omaha's outstanding citizens for 1926.

Hazel remained four days with his pretty young wife here, then went back to Omaha, where he is in charge of a battery of monotype casters. He will doubtless be an important figure in the big battle at Denver next July.

Among other visitors noticed were Carlton Reink wife and child of Michigan City, Ind.; Mrs. Elmer Vieweg, of Joliet; H. Rogers, of Chicago Heights; Freeman Offerles of Elgin; and Hollis Rice, of Hallsville, Mo.—who may remain permanently.

Robey Burns was here on the 24th. He took his I. S. D. basketball team on a tour of surrounding cities, playing nearly every night. Elmhurst, Elgin, Aurora, Freeport and Steger were some of the cities that saw the "Tigers" shoot baskets. The big annual Mid-West Schools for Deaf basketball championship tournament will be held in Jacksonville, March 24-26th, dedicating the new gymnasium, and several local citizens are planning to attend the doings.

The Silent A. C. held a successful all-night Watch Night party, New Year's eve, the feature of which was the really excellent cooking of Mrs. Fredo Hyman. No mistake about it, that woman can serve vittles fit for a king. One regrettable feature of the evening occurred when a bunch of young oral lads were going to the Sac, and were mocked by a hearing man on Garfield Boulevard. Grover Jones disliked the way the hearing man wiggled his fingers in his ears derisively, Jones slugged him. Whereupon two or three more hearing men set upon Jones, beat him cruelly, and while he was down kicked him in the eye—an injury which may prove serious. Although the leaf in Jones' party outnumbered the hearing gang, none of the yellow-bellies went to Jones' assistance.

Louis Masinkoff spent two weeks' vacation here. He works at Goodrear (Akron), and expects to remain there. It seems Russell Moore managed this year's "Goodyear Silents," which had only one deaf man as a regular player—Masinkoff at quarter—and five deaf subs. The others were hearing men. The standard of pro-football has advanced immeasurably since you and I were Goodyearites in the halycon days of 918—especially since Grange turned pro and led a lot of other college stars to blossom forth on pro teams—so the success of the "Silents" was not what it used to be. The wonder team of 1918 has gone the way of all flesh—an athlete deteriorates after reaching the age of 25—and the best blood from good old Gallaudet no longer makes its pilgrimage to the Mecca of Goodyear. So Russ Moore had to make the best of what material he has at his disposal.

The Pas-a-Pas Club celebrated New Year's Eve with a two-hour howling of the Kine films, taken by the three Yanzitos—one strip being the Silver Jubilee. Bunco and 00.

Among the dozens of private parties held that night were those given by the Kemps, Gray, Heagies and Gus Hyman's—the latter for their daughter Caroline.

Miss Letha Valentine, a beautiful little doe-eyed damsel from St. Louis, is visiting Mrs. Wm. Maiworm.

Alfred Arnot spent the holidays visiting his parents in South Bend, Ind.

Miss Mary Claus, the popular Joliet belle, was recently married to Alphonse Walters, of LaSalle.

In our column of the 16th, we announced it was "reported" that the widow of the late L. Patton passed away on the 2d. Yes, it was "reported" so—but the report was wrong. Mrs. Lafayette Patton (Ellen McHenry, who attended the I. S. D. in 1863) is still very much alive. It was Patton's son, not his widow, who passed away. Alfred R. Patton died in California, November 30th. Rev. Hasenstab conducted the funeral services at Clarence, Ill., on the 5th, assisted by his daughter, Miss Beatrice.

D. W. George, the gifted veteran of the I. S. D.—who was signally honored by the alumni at last June's convention—takes us kindly across venerable knee and belabors us with a witty pen anent the foregoing error. He also calls attention to our omission of the obituary of Mrs. Catherine Willys Norris, aged 75, who died here in Chicago, November 21st. Her parents were members of the old-world nobility, who lived in magnificent castles in Edinburgh, Scotland, but most of her life was spent in or near Chicago.

One of the daintiest social events of the past year was the Aurora party of Mrs. Andy Knauff, December 14th. Mesdames Fredo and Gus Hyman, Henry, Barrow, Kemp, Brimble, Roberts, Meagher, Schriver and Johnnie Sullivan were the appreciated—and appreciative—guests. First came a chicken dinner, which excelled some of the so-called "banquets" we have seen, with favors made by Mrs. Knauff herself. Hand-painted score cards with pencils attached featured the "500," which was won by Mrs. Kemp, with Mrs. Brimble second—two linen handkerchiefs apiece. After a long afternoon, dinner was served—another near-banquet. The guests were taken to the train at nine in Andy's car.

As an added attraction at this party, Mrs. Sullivan was presented a "friendship baby quilt," made of pink sateen, with white sateen blocks stitched by individual friends of hers—each block having the friend's initials embroidered with a different Mother Goose illustration.

The Ashley Mickenhams are now living in Chicago; at least Mrs. Mickenhams is, while her husband runs in over week-ends from his post at the Studebaker factory in South Bend, Ind.

Christmas Sunday, fifteen friends tendered a surprise party to Mrs. E. Grimse.

Guy Anderson, of Argyle, Wis., spent a couple of days with the Grimse family, en route to Aurora, Neb., to meet a lady farmer he had corresponded with for two years, but never met personally. If Dan Cupid will get busy on the job, Guy will be one lucky guy.

Fred Miller, of Goshen, Ind., was killed at Goshen, Ind., December 28th, when a mail train demolished his auto.

Henry Christowski, a young printer of East Chicago, died the day after Christmas, supposedly from poisoned "moon."

In answer to a signed request, presented by some of the colored deaf, the Rev. P. J. Hasenstab is conducting religious services for them every Sunday evening at 7 P. M., in the M. E. "citadel" at 108 W. Lake Street.

Mrs. Randolph Baker's mother is dead.

E. W. Carlon and Frank Neyens were received on probation at the M. E. services, January 3d.

Edwin, son of Wilfred Keeler, died of heart disease, and was buried in Forest Home, January 5th.

Earl Anderson, the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Wm. Sheenan, ran away from home, November 21st. Notify his mother if you know of his whereabouts.

Mrs. George Carter, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, spent the holidays with her two sons here.

Miss Laura Sheridan, of Green Castle, Ind., is spending two months here.

John L. White, janitor of All Angels' Church, is in St. Luke's Hospital.

Dates ahead. January 15—Jap party and dance, Chi-Oral-106, at 3351 North Ave. Sac, Dance and 500. Pas, Bunco and 500. 23—Mask ball and 500 at Sac, benefit of the Home for Aged Deaf.

The Capital City.

The Baptist Mission was aglow with "Yuletide" spirit at the Calvary Baptist Church, Tuesday evening, December 28th. All the good folks were there with smiling faces. There was the season of gladness among them, and there was, it seems, a little blue bird of happiness in every flock! All was gay and gladness. Their smiles were well jelled by yule! Although that night was saturated with a heavy rainfall, one hundred and thirty-three braved the cold damp weather to grace the banquet—five tables filled with wonderful "eats" furnished by the church.

When six o'clock arrived, they all piled in a merry rout. Oh! you should have seen them cheer with happy faces! The banquet hall was decorated with Christmas colors, and it looked brilliant with the aid of the electric lights.

At the first table sat the Reverend Bryant and Mrs. Bryant, their only daughter, Beatrice, and her husband, Stephen Cranston, son of Mrs. Cranston, who once was a matron of the small boys at the Kendall School. Next to them sat Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania. My what a party. They all forgot their symptoms and ailments. Young men were there, looking so happy, wearing new Christmas neckties, seated with their best girls, fathers with entire families. There was not the stiffness of the white fronts at tables. It was a very informal affair and every one was very much at ease. The ladies were there—unusually charming. Most of them have their hair bobbed. They know it is not a sin. The Bible does not warn woman against bobbing her hair.

Widower Heeke sat at the table between two charming ladies, wearing a colorful muffler, a Christmas gift. He it has just been learned, was a reporter for the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL and the American Deaf years ago.

What became of "Jimmy" David son? He was not there. His plate at the table was untouched.

The committee who helped make a success of the banquet are surely to be congratulated.

An elderly man was munching an apple in one of the corner of the hall, saying it was the first apple he had eaten for three long years.

Roger Scott and his charming wife were there, assisting the committee, of which W. P. Souder was chairman. Roger carried a fortune book. Wonder if he takes the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

Mrs. Bryant acted as a motherly matron to over thirty children up in the gallery, who yelled "Santy," "Santy."

After the supper, the banquets went upstairs to the chapel room, where a program, given, was under the chairmanship of our genial W. P. Souder.

After the address of welcome by Chairman Souder, Miss Lucille Dubois, a beautiful burnette from South Carolina, a Junior at the Gallaudet College, rendered a beautiful song, "Joy in the World."

Then came two sisters, Mrs. Council, brunette, and Miss Emma Cooke, blonde reciting "God Rest you Merry Gentlemen."

Nora Nanney on "Old Year out, New Year in." Wallace Edington related an interesting story—Christmas Tale, written by Bource.

Last but not at least, Mr. Luther Shibley, a young man from Arkansas, a Senior at the Gallaudet College, acted as a teacher and Roy Stewart impersonated a young student, wearing short pants and small cap. The teacher instructed young student to talk in signs on "St. Nicholas and his deers," which brought hearty laughter from the audience.

The program was closed with Rev. Mr. Bryant's talk on meditation on reward or punishment after the death. The Gallaudet's "elite" was there—among them were Prof. Drake and Mrs. Drake and Mrs. Coleman. Those whose assisted Chairman Souder were Mrs. Roy Stewart, Miss Nora Nanney, Miss Emma Cooke, Mrs. S. B. Alley and Mr. Alley.

James A. Nash has just chipped in two dollars for the JOURNAL. Thank you. He has a fine wife and a little girl, about six years old.

Julia Harrison Vatsch, who was hurt a month ago, was reported improved this week.

Chairman Souder happily whistled throughout the evening at the banquet—just purchased a new automobile—Ford.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. E. Bernsdorf were in New York, with the latter's mother, over the holidays. Mr. Bernsdorf was called to Pittsburgh, Pa., upon the passing away of his grandmother Christmas Day. He returned to Washington, D. C., to resume his duties after New Year's.

Detroiters who are living in the Capital City are rejoicing that the deaf of Detroit had four big Christmas festivals—Catholic Mission, Lutheran Mission, Guild, Ephphatha Mission and Detroit Association of the Deaf. The children were furnished with apples, oranges and candies, and were made very happy. Happy New Year to them.

Miss Pearl Krivitz writes she is returning home to Indiana, to be with her mother from Nashville, Tenn., where she has been for over two months.

Miss Elizabeth Peet spent Christmas vacation in New York for five days. Mrs. Coleman and her daughter, Grace, took charge of her house until Miss Peet's return. Miss Coleman enjoyed her rest at this house.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Voisine moved to Battle Creek, Mich., from Vicksburg, Mich., last year. Their sister, Grace Clark, works at her old place in Kalamazoo, Mich., and comes home to Battle Creek every week-end.

The new officers elected for Washington Division, No. 46, for 1927, were: Hunter S. Edington, President; Wallace D. Edington, Vice-President; H. O. Nicol, Secretary, re-elected; Robert Werdig, Treasurer, re-elected; Ben Zimmerman, Director; Earl Ridgway, Sergeant-at-Arms; F. H. Hughes, Trustee three years.

At the meeting of the Gallaudet College Alumni some time ago, at the Kendall School chapel, Wallace Edington was elected President, Robert Werdig, Vice-President, and Rev. Mr. Pulver, Secretary-Treasurer. Misses Nelson and Atkinson entertained them with light refreshments.

With Mrs. Ferd. Harrison's hospitality, the annual election of the 1927 officers of St. Barnabas' Mission of St. John's Church was held at her house, on the evening of January 4th, after a year's rest, on account of the N. A. D. convention. The results were as follows: H. S. Edington, President, re-elected; Mrs. W. Marshall, Vice-President; Mrs. Colby, Secretary; and Mr. Edelen, Treasurer, re-elected. All were elected by acclamation.

After the business meeting, several laughable and interesting stories were given by Rev. Mr. Pulver and Merton Gallaway.

Delicious hot chocolate and wafers were served under the management of Mrs. Marshall. Over thirty-five deaf and hearing attended and enjoyed the business transactions and social chats. The next meeting will be held at the Hall of Good Shepherd, Sixth and Eye, N. E., on the night of February 1st, when the new officers will resume their duties. Every deaf in Washington and nearby towns is cordially welcome.

The names of the 1927 committees, which the president has appointed will be given in the next issue of the JOURNAL.

Mrs. Pulver and Mrs. Woods were not at the meeting, on account of living so far out of the District. It is the hope of the society that all the ladies will be able to attend the next meeting.

I received a letter from Rev. Mr. Franklin C. Smileau, of Selins Grove Pa., stating he had made no decision as yet nor has he planned to hold services at Detroit, January 9th. I am very sorry and wish to apologize for taking the liberty without inquiring of Rev. Mr. Smileau first. Letters dated December 10th and December 15th came to me from the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission of Detroit, telling me, "Rev. Mr. Smileau has been appointed to fill Rev. Mr. Charles' place. He would be in Detroit, January 9th."

Washington friends offer their warm congratulations to our own James Orman and his charming wife (Miss Ballance), who were quietly married December 22d.

Holy communion was held at both churches—St. Barnabas and Baptist—Sunday, January second.

Many homes of the deaf had Christmas trees for little ones.

The members of the card club had a watch night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Parker, on Florida Ave. New Year's Eve.

Firecracker Restores Hearing to 'Deaf' Man.

PRISONER'S FAKED AFFLICTION VANISHES AS POLICE EXPERIMENT WITH CURR.

A huge firecracker was used effectively by skeptical Jersey City policeman yesterday to break down the pose of George Abbott, nineteen years old, that he was deaf and dumb. Abbott had been arrested as a suspicious person as he was coming out of an apartment house at 75 Grant Avenue, Jersey City.

With signs he indicated he was deaf and dumb, and he supported his contention by producing from his pockets a number of cards which set forth in large type that he could neither hear nor speak. Abbott indicated he had been selling the cards to obtain money to pay his way through college.

After five hours of sustained conversation, carried on with the aid of pencil and paper, Abbott stuck to his story. John Torpey, captain of detectives and the possessor of considerable skepticism, sent for a large firecracker. This was placed beneath Abbott's chair from behind and set off. Abbott left his chair with a yell and thereafter was able to talk and hear as well as any of his questioners.

The youth, who said he lived in a Manhattan hotel, was arraigned in the First Criminal Court and held as a disorderly person. He admitted he had used his pose in several cities as an easy means of getting money.—Tribune-Herald.

SEATTLE.

The Golden Rule bazaar was held at the Bodley house, on December 18th, to effect a clearance of articles left over from the sale a year ago. Everything was cleared away, and refreshments sold, and approximately $30 will be turned into the Home Fund. No more bazaars will be held, and the club will become strictly social in character, having monthly meetings at the homes of members, who will, in turn, act as hostesses.

The Gallaudet Social for December was in charge of Mrs. Hanson, and as that lady does not like to lead in games, she asked whether the members would not prefer a dinner instead of the usual social. All agreed, and on December 19th, in the evening, after the usual service at St. Mark's, a turkey dinner was served to twenty-six. The January social will be led by Miss Edna Smith.

Hugo Holcombe recently had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Amy Irish for the first time in twenty-five years, when she was in the city recently, with her daughter, Ethel. Mrs. Irish is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. H. Van Durlin, and her father acted as Hugo's guardian. Miss Ethel came to Seattle as a member of the Sunkist Ballet in the Red Robin Idea Company, of Hollywood. The company was playing at our beautiful new 5th Avenue Theatre, and Hugo and his three children were given passes to see the show, which they thought very fine.

Herbert, the son of John Adams, is helping to build either a bridge or a dam at Port Angeles. Herbert has strong leanings towards an engineer's career, and is going to Chicago some time in the near future to study his chosen profession. He has an uncle there, who will be of great assistance to him.

Our two Dorises spent Christmas together, Doris Nation going to Doris Thompson's home at Wenatchee, where she had a most enjoyable time.

Gallaudet Day was observed by the P. S. A. D. on December 11th. There was a cafeteria supper, and after that, the usual meeting at Carpenter's Hall. The business meeting was brief, then a program followed. It was the point of the program to use good signs, and honor Gallaudet in the language he brought to America for the deaf and made their own peculiar and beautiful speech. Mr. Holcombe rendered "The Charge of the Light Brigade," and Mrs. Reeves gave a graceful tribute to Gallaudet. Doris Nation made her first appearance before an audience by telling in signs the story of an elephant that went fishing. Mrs. Hanson rendered "Three Fishers," and Dr. Hanson "Lochinvar."

Oscar Sanders spoke in behalf of the E. M. Gallaudet Memorial Fund, and Alice Wilburg closed the program with a lovely rendition of "Star Spangled Banner."

Dr. and Mrs. Hanson gave a dinner on December 28th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Horn. Besides the hosts, there were present Lailah Freese, Alice Wilburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Martin, John Hood and Frank Kelly. Cards were played after dinner.

The powerful and interesting drama of Ben-Hur is being shown for two weeks at the Metropolitan. The Women's Federation of the University of Washington took over the house for the 22d of December, and on that day no war tax was charged. About a dozen of deaf attended on that day, half of them in the afternoon and half in the evening.

The bowling team expected to go to Portland on December 25th, for a game with the team there, but in the end did not go. The trouble was the date, for as one of them remarked, Christmas Day is the one day in the year when a man wants to be at home. We hope that another date can be arranged at a better time.

Miss Sophia Mullin is now settled in an apartment at the Union Arms, with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle. She likes Seattle very much and Seattle surely likes her. She recently had a letter from a brother, who is on the old family farm at Butler, Pa., that his auto collided with a heavy truck recently and was completely destroyed. He himself was entirely unhurt, for which Sophia is very thankful.

Mr. Frank Rolph is in town and learning signs. He is a young man, who lost hearing from flu five or six years ago. He has been spending six months of every year in Alaska for the past four years, as cook of a crew of men at a cannery. Mr. Edwin Johnson, who has been making his home with his parents in Oregon, is spending a week in town during the holidays and looking up old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves found a new Star six in their stocking for Christmas. Old Santa must have done some stretching to get it in.

Mr. Lawrence Belser showed us a flashlight picture of a group of his relatives, taken during the holidays. His mother had spent Christmas in Seattle and was in the group. She appeared with her hair bobbed, and to judge from the photo, it became her.

Alice Wilberg and her sister recently attended an impressive gathering at the Masonic Temple, when their mother was installed as Worthy Matron of her lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harris are spending the holidays with the latter's mother, at Battleground, Wash.

Frank Kelly went to see his mother, at Port Angeles, for Christmas and was happy to sample again some of her cooking.

Robert Bronson spent Christmas with his parents in Yakima. He enjoyed crossing the mountains in the winter time.

Dr. Hanson conducted services in Portland, on December 26th. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reichle while there, and on Saturday night, attended the party given at Redmen's Hall.

He called at the Metcalf home. Mrs. Metcalf is obliged to use crutches to go about, but mentally she is as alert and interesting as ever. Her oldest daughter takes her place as head of the Portland Day School, and her youngest daughter is teaching at the Vancouver School.

Miss Alice Wilburg left a couple of days ago, for the State School at Vancouver, to assume the position of supervisor of small girls. Her friends here are all very glad at her getting such a nice berth, but her going leaves her place very vacant, and she will be greatly missed. With her ability and character, we shall not be surprised to see her later elevated to a teacher's position.

The Frat party last night was a very gay affair, and every one who went was glad. The American Legion building, on E. 50th Street and Tenth Avenue, N. E., formed an ideal and attractive setting for our party. The large dance-hall, the convenient card room, the handy ladies' room and the large lobby, with its checking room, were all brightly lighted, and the effect was much more home-like than the average hired hall. The dance hall had a stage at one end, where an opening program was given. George Mayer, a chalk talk artist, first entertained the crowd with his facility crayon. Carroll Shuffer, a magician followed with a number of expert tricks. Helen Hanson then gave an exhibition of clog dancing. Misses Josie and Marion Scott danced a Highland fling together, keeping wonderful time. Frank Kelly, Lailah Freese and Bertha Wilson, next staged a little skit, in which Frank was a realistic looking farmer and the girls his hired help. They did some good dancing. Bertha Wilson closed the program with an exhibition of the vanishing Charleston. She wore a sailor costume.

Then followed dancing in the ballroom and cards in the card room till eleven, when sandwiches, cakes, and coffee were served to all. Soon after the midnight hour struck, and Happy New Years were the order of the night. There was, as the program stated, plenty of mistletoe, and any lady who did not wish to be taken unawares had to keep an exceedingly watchful eye. Over a hundred were present, with a good many from out of town. Among those present, we noted Helen Smith and Louis Bartl, of Mt. Vernon; Miss Drum and Mr. Allen of Portland; Joe Modar, the Keys, Lorenzo, Lowells, Woodrighes and Mrs. Seeley, from Tacoma; the Wallaces, Bains and Rileys, from Victoria; Messrs. Horn, Bjorkquist and McNeal and the Lawrences from Vancouver, Wash.; Otto Johnne and Lynn Palmer, from Snoqualmie; Messrs. Ferwerda, Holtenbeck, Snyder and the Sueves from Anacortes, the Ernest Fredericksens from Everett, and Charles Fredericksen from Stanwood. There were doubtless many others whose names we failed to get.

August M. Kowald, from Rochester N. Y., was also present. He is living in Renton, with his youngest daughter, Mrs. M. Hayes.

The Seattle bowling team played Anacortes last Saturday, and won by a score of 2453 to 2234 points.

PITTSBURGH.

The Pittsburgh Silent basketball team is holding its own in the West Penn League. December 31st, it won its third game out of eight, moving up to fifth place in the standing. The team seems to be the real goods, improving with each game. Insufficient practice is blamed for its sorry showing in its first few games.

At the December meeting of the local P. S. A. D., new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Bernard Teitelbaum; Vice-President, Mrs. F. A. Leitner; Secretary (re-elected), F. A. Leitner; Treasurer, John L. Friend, (re-elected); Chairman of Ways and Means Committee, Vincent Dunn. It was decided to hold meetings and socials on the third Saturday of the month, instead of second as hitherto. A card party for Saturday, January 15th, was announced.

Fred Connor, who was confined to St. Francis Hospital for five weeks, with an infection in left leg above knee, is kicking things around once more.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nicholas, came home from West Point to spend the holidays.

On Saturday evening, January 29th, the local N.A.D. will entertain at the Edgewood School, with moving pictures, some of which were reeled off at the Washington convention. Admission of twenty-five cents will be charged, the proceeds to go to the E. M. Gallaudet Fund. Vincent Dunn will have charge of the affair. A non-collegian with the spirit of Gallaudet strong in him, such is Vincent.

Dorothy Havens, a pupil of the Kendall School, who expects to enter college this coming Fall, was taken so ill that she was brought home before the Christmas holidays. Parental care brought her back to her wanted healthy state and now she's back at her books. Her new mother was May Dougherty, who resigned from the teaching staff of the Hartford School last November.

Mrs. Havens makes a very welcome addition to this deaf colony, the more so since there has always been a dearth of deaf women equipped with a college education in this neck of the woods, thus leaving the burden of advancing our social interests almost entirely on the shoulders of men. It is now no longer said that men are the doers of things. Since the granting of equal franchise, women have invaded fields formerly restricted to men. Here is one field where women are as welcome as any other. You may be sure the men will welcome you with open arms, so get in this girls.

The writer has just returned from Mercy Hospital, where he was taken for observation. Since the first week of September, he has been laid up with plebitis, with clotting in right leg vein. It was hoped that they would get to the bottom of the trouble at the hospital, but after a week's stay during which he was gone over by ten doctors, it is still a conundrum what caused the trouble. Veins are good structures to leave alone. As rest is the only treatment recommended, one might as well pass the time at home.

In a room on the same floor at the hospital, was confined Mr. Harry Roberts, son of Mrs. William Schull by her first marriage. He was successfully operated on for appendicitis. He is a draftsman and lives in New York City. He came to Pittsburgh so that he could undergo the operation under the eyes of his aunt, sister of Mrs. Schull who is nurse in charge on the floor. Mrs. Schull has been an employee of the St. Margaret Hospital for two years.

On the evening of December 23d, a thirty-five year wedding anniversary party was given Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barde, at their home in Wilkinsburg, by their children. About forty-five were present to make the occasion a happy one with lovely gifts. Games, the principal one of which was Co-coo, were enjoyed. The party broke up at midnight, some being unable to get home until as late as two in the morning on account of irregularity in trolley service. The writer and the Mrs. regret they were unable to add to the merriment of the celebration, but the hope to be present at the golden anniversary.

An entertainment under the auspices of the local branch of the G. C. A. A. will be given at McGeagh Hall, on Saturday evening, February 26th.

Harold, son of Fred Farke, is making a success in the business world. At present he is auditor for a chain of seventeen hotels in various cities.

Miss Edith Jensen, of Johnstown, Pa., spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gibson.
